

The police judge yesterday collected upwards of $800 in fines.

A new sidewalk was laid in front of A. Wagner's meat market yesterday.

A large party of gentlemen from Lawrence are prospecting in this country.

Mr. Grantham, the old man that was knocked down and robbed Tuesday night, was resting comfortably yesterday.

A couple of Italians discussed some very fine music on the streets yesterday and gathered in the small throngs of their audiences.

The shooting gallery which squatted on the corner of Douglas and Topeka avenues Tuesday, silently folded its tent yesterday and stole away.

Our real estate dealers report numerous excursion parties to come from various points in Indiana and Illinois within the next thirty days.

There are about twenty men employed on Robt. Kalk's new building, and the scene presented as the workmen pursue their labors, is an animated one.

Rev. Harper's brown pony either strayed or was stolen from the stable on Wednesday night. Any one who may have seen it will confer a favor by leaving word at this office.

The funeral of the infant child of G. W. Salander took place yesterday afternoon from the residence, and was conducted by Rev. Post, who occupies the same house with Mr. Salander.

The following figures will show the receipts and disbursements at the county treasurer's office up to the hour of closing business yesterday: Receipts, $161.24. Disbursements, $190.00.

The colored band have perfected arrangements for a social and musical entertainment to be given in Russell hall this evening. The public are invited and a pleasant time is assured to all those who attend.

Harry Hill has purchased Dr. Smith's fine farm which is located about two miles south of the city. It embraces some 120 acres, most of which is in a fine state of cultivation. The consideration was $8,000.

The old hedge in the south part of the city across the railroad, is being cut down, removed and killed by the owners of the property in that vicinity, who contemplate erecting residences in that part of Wichita.

Kate Seroll yesterday caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Henry Sparks, whom she charges with assaulting and beating her. The case will be heard in Justice Thomas' court to-day or to-morrow.

N. F. Niederlander is puzzled over the problem how he can be in two places at the same time, since opening his branch office on Main street. It can't be done, N. F. it is too short to worry over impossibilities.

Mort McKim writes back from Meade county to his father in this city that about twelve inches of rain fell in that county on the 4th and 5th inst., and yet they are not drowned out. The boys are doing first-rate and enjoying themselves hugely on bacon and beans.

J. M. Balderson and Dr. Farbrige are fixing up their office in fine shape. A new partition is being put in, the walls repapered and repainted, and when these repairs are completed it will be furnished in elegant style, making one of the most convenient and handsome offices in the city.

The offices of the city clerk, police judge and surveyor, were removed yesterday from the Eagle block, into much more pleasant and commodious quarters in Fritz Schuler's new block on Market street, they occupying the upstairs room in the southeast corner of the building.

The prediction of the EAGLE that wheat would be higher seems to have had the effect of inducing the farmers to keep their wheat at home. One of our grain buyers remarked yesterday that two good men with a farming mill could handle all the wheat now coming to this market outside of what goes to our mills.

J. M. Allen & Co. yesterday sold one hundred and sixty bushels of Orchard grass seed and forty bushels of Timothy seed, which will be sown on the Jewett farm. Two hundred bushels of grass seed for a single farm will give our eastern readers a faint idea of the scale on which farming in the Arkansas valley is conducted.

The committee on street numbering met in Capt. F. G. Smythe's office last evening. Mr. M. Dockson, of Decatur, Ill., laid before them a plan and system of arrangement of numbers which met their approval. It was resolved to recommend that the streets be numbered, taking Douglas avenue and Main street as the starting points, each 50 feet to be allotted a number and that each block be given one hundred numbers.

The district court yesterday instructed Ed. Dunne, who has been appointed receiver of the Daily Times office, some months ago, to take actual possession of the same at once, collect up the accounts, and attend to the business, stating that there was an indebtedness against the office, over and above what is due T. J. Shelton, of $200.37, which the court orders paid by the first of September or the office sold to satisfy said indebtedness.

The Kalks in receipt of an anonymous communication signed "Vigilante," severely attacking the authorities of Wichita for permitting among many other enumerated offenses four shooting affairs within three months, all of them the result of murder and two of them resulting in death. "Vigilante" offers no responsible name, he therefore fails to come within our rules for communications, but we endorse nearly everything he says and second his call to the people of this city, to arise and clean out the shams.

Judge Harris held up R. L. Walker yesterday afternoon and compelled him, Walker, to listen to George W. Martin's printed opinion of a half dozen brother office holders as they are in the Kansas City Times. How like a sweet morsel does the average Democrat roll beneath his tongue the inharmonious actions and words of prominent Republicans, for by virtue of these little difficulties were they, and their two years ago to boost one of their number into high and powerful office. It's no use, Judge, the dodge won't work a second time.

Mr. H. J. Harding, whose letter is dated Old Orchard, Maine, sends us a synopsis of the chief of the bureau of statistics of Massachusetts, or that portion bearing on labor, and showing the relative condition of labor in England and Massachusetts. The figures are startling and should be utilized by the National Republican committee and its speakers. Of course as applied to the rewards of labor in the west and contrasted with that of England the result would appear still more favorable. We shall find occasion to use the unpublished facts in these columns.

Upon our table yesterday noon we found a box of very fine fruit with a card "from Will Hayes." The boy said the box was left by a couple of pretty young ladies. The young man's judgment was no doubt correct. As to the fruit it was like the majority of fruit raised in the Arkansas valley, large, beautiful and luscious. We have seen larger peaches at fair but never finer ones or more luscious ones. The skin was crimson on one side of the peach and yellow on the other while the meat was a perfect gold. The crabs were beautiful. Mr. Hayes, who the young ladies will please correct.

J. P. Horton, formerly of this city but now deputy treasurer of Harper county, and residing in Anthony, met with an accident last week, which has grown quite serious. He was writing in the office, and
